STAGE 6 STUDENT ASSESSMENT POLICY HANDBOOK

2018

Updated and issued: November 2017

Students should note that this document has been revised and should be read CAREFULLY. Any alterations to the policies included in this document must be made in writing. Note: This document supersedes all previously issued assessment documents.

STUDENT ASSESSMENT POLICY – STAGE 6

Information and school policy on Stage 6 assessments and the responsibilities of the student and school are set out below. These policies should be carefully read by students and parents to ensure thorough understanding. Relevant forms for students are available in the Appendix at the back of this booklet.

Please note, there is a lot of administration required between school and the NSW Education Standards Authority (NESA).

The current staff member acting in the role of school NESA Liaison in 2018 is Mrs Dallimore.

The Stage 6 Year Advisor for 2018 is Mrs Meek.

The Careers Advisor for 2018 is Mrs West.

What is assessment?

An important role of assessment is to assist student learning. This is achieved in two ways: firstly, students know in advance which course outcomes are to be assessed, and secondly, following each task, teachers will provide meaningful feedback to students. This feedback will clearly indicate the extent to which the course outcomes have been achieved. Such feedback acknowledges what students can do and what they need to do in order to improve their level of performance.

When will internal assessment occur?

For each subject (except TAFE & Distance Education Courses) an Assessment Schedule will be distributed in a separate booklet at the beginning of the Preliminary and HSC courses. These booklets will provide details of Assessment Tasks that will be given in all subjects, what form the tasks will take, which course outcomes will be assessed and in which week of the term it occurs.

Preliminary course subjects: Assessment Tasks provide the basis for a student's Record of School Achievement (RoSA) Grade, but other work done throughout the year will also be used to help establish a student's grade. This means that while formal assessment tasks are important, other informal opportunities will be given throughout the course to demonstrate that students can achieve outcomes. Final grades will reflect this.

HSC course subjects: Assessment Tasks provide weighting towards a student's final assessment mark. NESA regulations mean that these tasks are the ONLY work that teachers are permitted to use to establish a student's final HSC school assessment mark.

Maximum number of formal tasks:

- Three in the Preliminary Course (including End of Year Examination)
- Four in the HSC course (including HSC Trial Examination)

General guidelines for assessments:

1. Under normal circumstances, tasks will not be due on Fridays.
2. An individual HSC task would not normally be worth less than 10% or more than 40% of the total school assessment mark for each course.
3. Assessment free week is one in which no formal assessment tasks are undertaken in class or are due for submission. The only exception being the continuation of major works that are part of an ongoing process.
4. Guidelines for querying an assessment task result are explained on page 8.
5. Non-assessment work will form part of the basis of information used to report to parents throughout the year. Each student will also be expected to complete other ongoing homework, assignments and course work involved with each course. This work should be viewed as an integral part of the course, and therefore should be taken seriously. NESA requires teachers to affirm diligent and sustained effort. See Appendix 2.
6. Under extenuating circumstances, the school may need to add or omit a formal assessment task, in which case, the weightings would be modified and students and parents informed in writing.
7. Any change or withdrawal of a subject or course can only be completed after consultation and approval with the relevant teachers and NESA Liaison. Communication with parents will need to take place. The school needs to ensure that NESA criteria are still met following a change. Do not assume approval will be granted. You will receive notification if the change has been granted.
8. Formal assessment tasks for the Preliminary Course can be given during Foundation Studies.

RoSA Grade – Preliminary Course

The Record of School Achievement (RoSA) has been designed to provide grades for all Stage 5 (Year 10) and Stage 6 (Preliminary) courses completed during secondary education. The final RoSA grade allocated to students is determined by an on-balance judgment made by the class teacher which is informed by performance in assessment tasks and other evidence that the student demonstrates to the teacher throughout the year. This judgment is made against the Preliminary Common Grade Scale that has been developed by NESA. See NCS website for full RoSA policy.

The Preliminary Common Grade Scale describes performance at each of five grade levels.

A	The student demonstrates extensive knowledge of content and understanding of course concepts, and applies highly developed skills and processes in a wide variety of contexts. In addition the student demonstrates creative and critical thinking skills using perceptive analysis and evaluation. The student effectively communicates complex ideas and information.
B	The student demonstrates thorough knowledge of content and understanding of course concepts, and applies well-developed skills and processes in a variety of contexts. In addition the student demonstrates creative and critical thinking skills using analysis and evaluation. The student clearly communicates complex ideas and information.
C	The student demonstrates sound knowledge of content and understanding of course concepts, and applies skills and processes in a range of familiar contexts. In addition the student demonstrates skills in selecting and integrating information and communicates relevant ideas in an appropriate manner.
D	The student demonstrates a basic knowledge of content and understanding of course concepts, and applies skills and processes in some familiar contexts. In addition the student demonstrates skills in selecting and using information and communicates ideas in a descriptive manner.
E	The student demonstrates an elementary knowledge of content and understanding of course concepts, and applies some skills and processes with guidance. In addition the student demonstrates elementary skills in recounting information and communicating ideas.

Course teacher responsibilities:

It is the responsibility of the teacher to:

1. Teach the approved NESA curriculum
2. Determine the various tasks on which assessments are based and, in the HSC, the weightings to be allocated to each task.
3. Notify students in writing in advance prior to each task. This notification will include:
 - Date the task is due
 - Description of the task
 - Weighting of the task – for HSC courses only
 - Outcomes being assessed
 - Method of task submission
 - Criteria on which the task will be marked
4. Negotiate a suitable change of date if it is necessary to change the notified date of a set assessment task. NESA Liaison must give approval and the students are formally informed.
5. Ensure that assessment tasks are returned to the student with a mark or grade and explicit feedback to assist improvement in the student's performance.
6. Notify students and their parents in writing if they fail to meet course and/or assessment requirements. NESA Liaison may send an 'N' warning letter home.
7. Keep comprehensive records of all marks/grades and provide these as required at the end of the year.

Student responsibilities:

Students have specific responsibilities regarding course completion and the assessment program. These include:

1. Making themselves aware of all the rules concerning the completion of their courses and assessment procedures.
2. Making genuine efforts to complete course work and assessment tasks. See Appendix 2 regarding diligence and sustained effort.
3. Submission of the task will be in the format specified on the Assessment Task Notification Sheet and have an Assessment Task Cover Sheet attached (see Appendix 3)
4. Students' work is to be completed to a satisfactory standard with bibliographies and references noted (see Appendix 8 regarding NCS Student Reference Guide).
5. Submit tasks to their teacher by 8:45am on the due date, unless otherwise stated.
6. Present work that is totally their own. See section on malpractice for details.
7. Non-submittal or late submittal of an assessment task will draw the following penalties:
 - a. 1 day late = loss of 50% of total available marks. A task is deemed to be one day late if it is handed in after 8:45am or the time indicated on the assessment task notification.
 - b. 2 days late = zero marks (work is still required to be submitted within one week).

Parents will be informed of any late submittals. See Appendix 1 for late submission procedure.

Consideration may be given for the following:

1. Application for late submission of assessment tasks is only an option in exceptional cases. Applications for a late submittal must be made, in advance of the due date, for an extension of time (see Appendix 4). This application must be made to NESA Liaison who will decide in consultation with the class teacher. Approval should not be anticipated. It will only be granted in extenuating circumstances. Students can not apply for a late submittal the day before the task is due or after the due date.
2. If you fall ill or fail to complete an assessment task due to illness or misadventure you must complete and present to NESA Liaison an "Illness and Misadventure Application" form on the day you return to school (see Appendix 5). You must have the relevant documentation with you, explaining your inability to do the task. It is not the responsibility of the teacher to request the form from you. Should it be deemed necessary, NESA Liaison may request a medical certificate for an absence the day before an assessment task is due. Consideration will be made in conjunction with the subject teacher (a subject teacher is not permitted to make this decision on their own). The decision could include: late submission penalty imposed in accordance with School Policy, an alternate task given, an extension or an estimate based on previous work given. If the student is dissatisfied with the decision given, he/she may come before a Review Committee. The Review Committee will comprise:
 1. Principal or Head of Secondary
 2. NESA Liaison
 3. The Subject Teacher

3. Where a student is absent on the day of the task (or the day a task is due) he/she must present a doctor's certificate (or certificate from a registered health practitioner) in the case of illness, or a satisfactory explanation with independent evidence in writing (e.g. Police report) in the case of misadventure, on the day they return to school. This must be attached to the Illness/Misadventure form.
4. Illness during a task or exam: Students may make an appeal to NESA Liaison if they have experienced difficulty completing an exam or assessment task due to illness during the task or exam. They must notify the teacher immediately and provide a medical certificate to NESA Liaison the next day for consideration. In certain cases, missed exams can be rescheduled either at school or at home.
5. Medical Certificates: When receiving a medical certificate it is important that the medical practitioner give a reason why the student is unable to attend school or complete the task. Generalities such as 'unfit for work' are usually not sufficient. A more detailed explanation allows the school to fairly administer the illness and misadventure process.
6. In cases where tasks may be assessed over several days (e.g. speeches and presentations) and a student is absent, the student must be prepared to present their task on the day they return to school. If the student is absent on the day they were scheduled to present, they must present a doctor's certificate, otherwise late submission penalty will apply.
7. Where an absence is known in advance, the student must approach the teacher as soon as they are aware of their impending absence and negotiate an alternative date or task. Where approval is granted the student may be required to attempt an alternative task or may be assessed on the basis of other evidence. Where leave of absence is denied, absence or non-completion of the task will result in a loss of marks according to school policy.
8. Prolonged Absences: Students who believe that circumstances beyond their control could diminish their HSC examination performance can lodge an Illness/Misadventure Appeal to NESA through NESA Liaison. Discussion with NESA Liaison needs to take place as soon as a problem becomes apparent.
9. Technology Problems: Assessment tasks will not be accepted electronically, unless otherwise stated by the subject teacher. Problems with a computer are not normally grounds for a misadventure. Students are advised to save all completed assessment tasks on both their hard drive and back up disks. It is recommended that students make backup copies of work completed at the end of each session in which they work on a task. Alternatively, working and storing in the cloud will save technology angst.

Remember:

- It is the responsibility of each student, if he/she has been absent, to check with the teachers of the subjects involved to see if any assessment tasks have been given. No review will be granted on the grounds of absence when a task is given.
- Students should give priority to assessment tasks over all other controllable activities e.g. sporting and social functions.

Any changes to the stated School policy found in this document or to the subject policies must be communicated to the students in writing.

MALPRACTICE

Malpractice is any attempt to gain an unfair advantage over other students.

Types of malpractice in assessment tasks may include, but are not limited to:

- Being in possession of unauthorised notes or electronic devices during a test or examination
- Using the words, ideas, designs or workmanship of others without acknowledgement
- Copying from another student
- Paying someone to write or prepare an assessment task
- Late submission of assessment tasks where it is proven to be a deliberate mechanism to gain advantage over other students
- Breaching school exam rules
- Helping another student to engage in malpractice

NESA requires all schools to register all instances of proven malpractice in HSC assessment tasks (including frivolous or offensive responses).

Plagiarism

Students at Nowra Christian School are expected to be honest in every aspect of their academic work. All work presented as a student's own must be the product of his or her own efforts.

Using the words, ideas, designs or workmanship of others without acknowledgement so that the work is presented as if it is your own is cheating. This may involve asking another person to complete the task and submitting it as your own work. Changing only some words and sentences may be seen as an attempt to hide the fact that the work has been copied. In schools and universities, this sort of cheating is called plagiarism.

It is permissible to copy and use other people's work and ideas. The problem occurs when students act in a way that makes it seem that they want the teacher to think that the ideas are theirs.

No matter how much a student has taken from other sources, it is always important that a large part of their assignment is their work and ideas.

While a student may receive help from outside sources while researching for a task, the student must complete the task itself.

Senior students are required to have completed NESA 'All My Own Work' online tutorial and agreement. This program outlines the nature of plagiarism.

When submitting tasks students must sign the Assessment Task Cover Sheet, which states that the work is their own.

The Consequences of Malpractice

A student whose work is judged to be dishonest or seeking to gain unfair advantage, will, in consultation between the subject teacher and NESA Liaison, lose marks.

- Penalties incurred may range from minus 25% to minus 100% of the total and may be regarded as a non-submittal.
- The assessment task must be re-submitted and some penalties will apply.
- A letter informing of an incident of malpractice will be sent to the parents.
- Incident recorded on the NESA Malpractice Register for HSC tasks.

Review is possible through the Review Committee. The matter will then be referred to NESA Liaison for follow up.

NON-SERIOUS ATTEMPTS

A student whose submitted work is deemed to be a non-serious attempt, i.e. a frivolous or offensive response, will, in consultation between the subject teacher and NESA Liaison, lose marks.

- Penalties incurred may range from minus 25% to minus 100% of the total and may be regarded as a non-submittal.
- The assessment task must be re-submitted and some penalties will apply.
- A letter informing of an incident of diligence and sustained effort will be sent to the parents.
- Incident recorded on the NESA Malpractice Register for HSC tasks.

NCS STUDENT REFERENCING GUIDE

Students should read and use the NCS Student Referencing Guide for assignments. The Harvard Referencing System is the standard that has been adopted by NCS. (See Appendix 8)

PASTORAL CARE

If at any stage, a student has a concern or problems coping with assessment requirements, he/she should immediately seek the counsel of the appropriate teacher(s), such as their subject teacher, mentor, year advisor, AM teacher, School Counsellor/Psychologist, NESA Liaison or the Head of Secondary.

REVIEW INFORMATION

1. When assignment is returned to the student

If a student wishes to appeal a grade or mark for an assignment, the request for a review is to be made within three school days, and the request is to be in writing. This request may come from a parent or a student, but as this process is for a senior student, any further discussion and feedback is given directly to the student. If such an appeal is made, the teacher involved in marking will work through the student's assignment with another teacher selected by the NESAs Liaison, and will make any adjustments that may prove to be necessary. This review will only be done against the task and the criteria that were given to all students. The decision that flows from this process is final. It must be noted that in any review, there is a possibility that the grade or mark may go up or down, and that the review grade or mark is the one that will be recorded.

2. When the final HSC assessment rankings are given to the students

NESA has determined that students may seek review of their assessment if their position in the School's Order-of-Merit differs significantly from the expectation they may have from feedback of their performance at assessment tasks throughout the course.

Accordingly, an Appeals Committee will be set-up, if required, to review whether appropriate procedures were followed for determining the final assessment mark.

The Appeals Committee will comprise at least three of the following:

- The Principal and/or Head of Secondary
- NESAs Liaison
- A teacher nominated by the Principal or Head of Secondary from another subject area

At this time, students are not entitled to seek review of teacher's judgments of the worth of individual performance in assessment tasks. The marks or grades awarded will not be subject to review as part of the process.

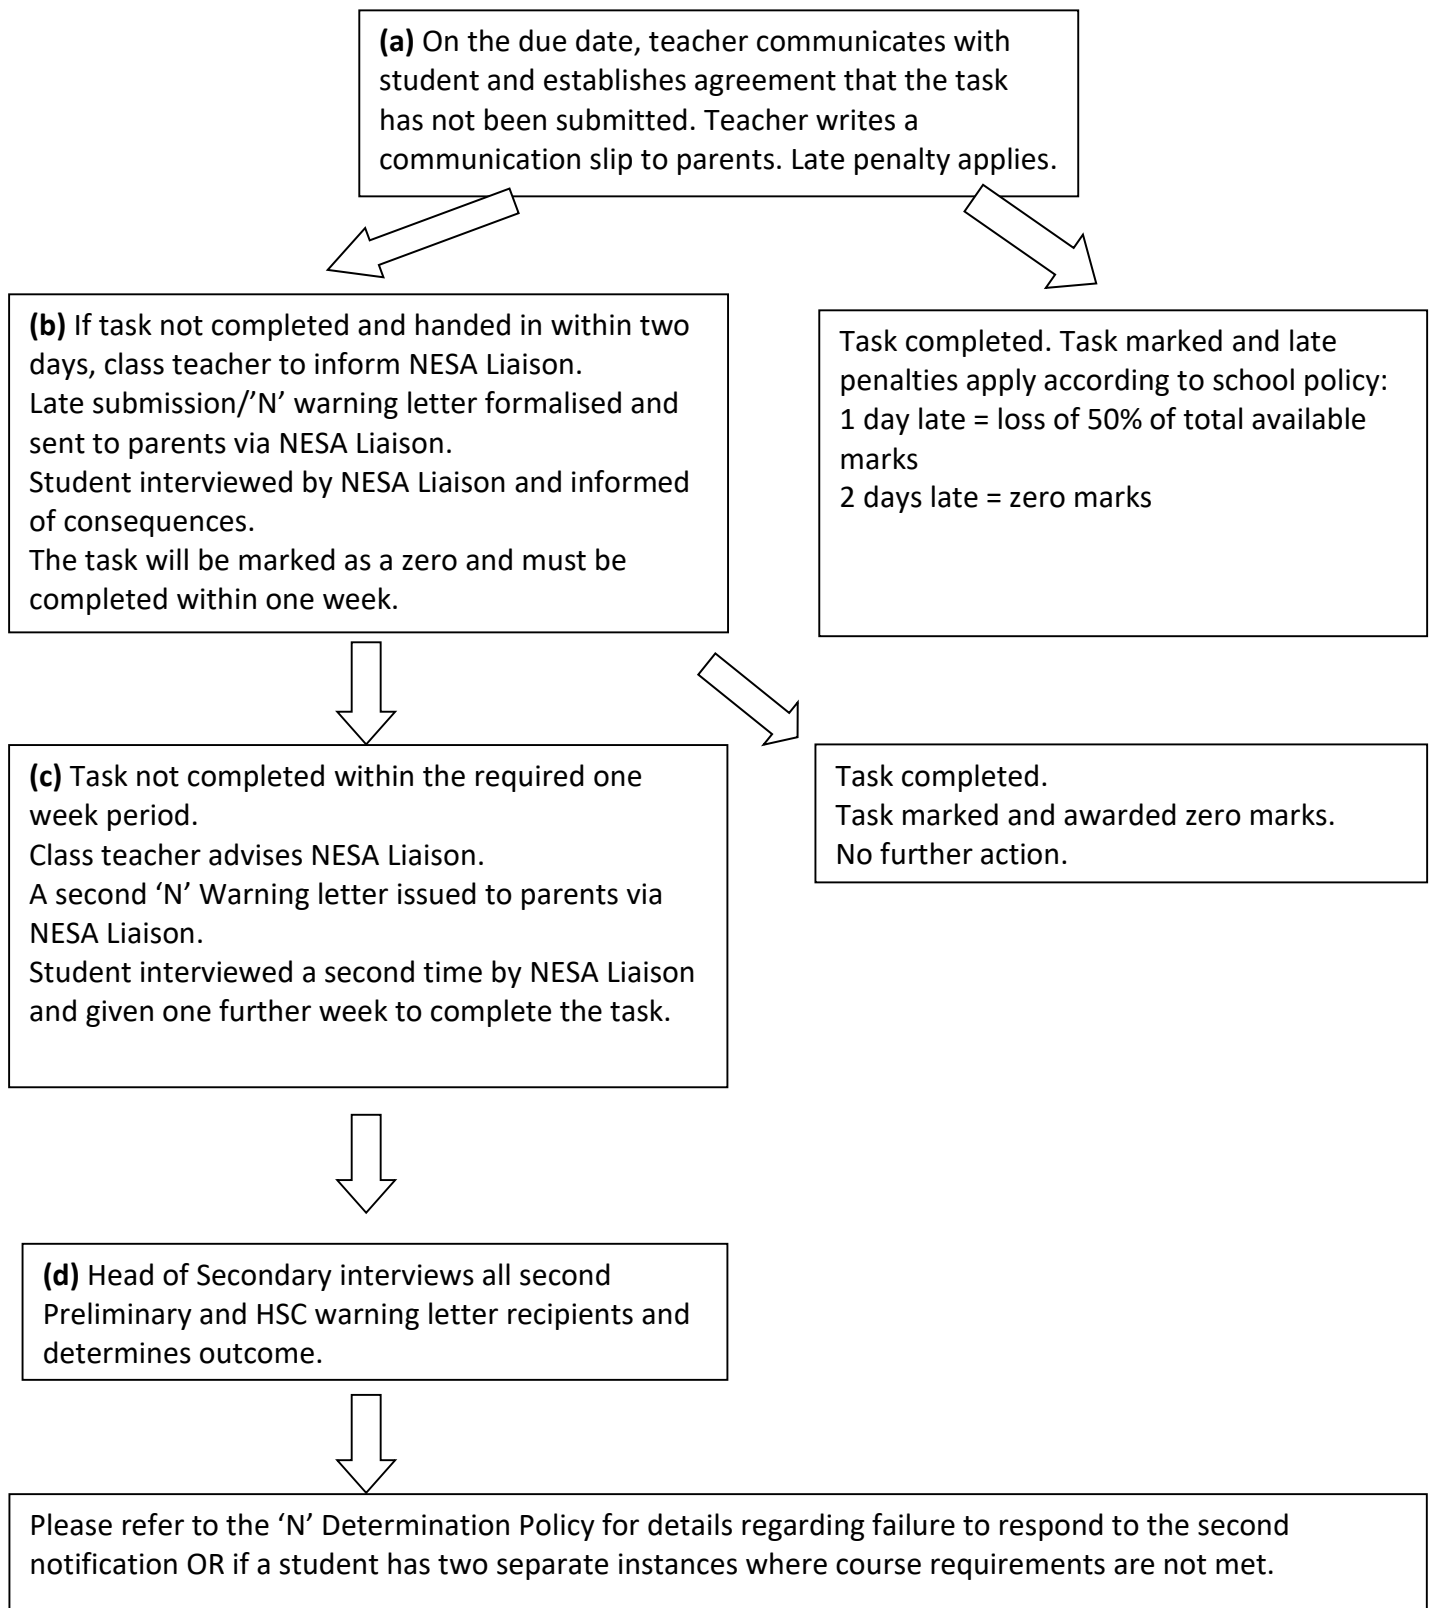

In conducting an assessment review, it is necessary for the school to ascertain whether:

- The weighting specified by the school in its assessment program conforms with NESAs requirements as detailed in the subject guides
- The procedures used by the school for determining the final assessment mark conforms with its stated assessment program
- There are no computational or clerical errors in the determination of the assessment mark

Where possible, all reviews will be resolved within the school. However, students do also have opportunity to appeal through NESAs.

WHY REFERENCE?

- To acknowledge the work of others.
- To give your work credibility and reliability.
- To demonstrate that you have read and considered the relevant literature.
- To validate points that you have made in your writing.
- To follow academic writing standards.
- To avoid plagiarism.

WHEN SHOULD I REFERENCE?

A reference is required when you:

- quote another person word for word (direct quotation).

It doesn't matter whether it is a phrase, sentence or paragraph, you will need to provide a reference from which it was taken.

- When quoting a very long quote of more than 40 words, you should indent the quote on a separate line. Insert at least three full stops if a word or sentence is omitted e.g.
 “The distinguishing ornamental characteristic of Art Nouveau is its undulating, asymmetrical line, often taking the form of flower stalks and buds, vine tendrils, insect wings, and other delicate and sinuous natural objects; the line may be elegant and graceful or infused with a powerfully rhythmic and whiplike force.....
 In the graphic arts the line subordinates all other pictorial elements—form, texture, space, and colour—to its own decorative effect. In architecture and the other plastic arts, the whole of the three-dimensional form becomes engulfed in the organic, linear rhythm, creating a fusion between structure and ornament.” (Encyclopaedia Britannica online 2008)
- You must include the page number when you use a direct quote from an original source e.g.
 “modern art traces its roots from the Renaissance period of history” (Brown 2000,p.16).
- paraphrase or summarise. Express someone else’s ideas or data even if you have changed the wording and/or content.
- use statistics. (e.g. population)
- copy tables, figures, diagrams, maps and appendices. The source of these must be acknowledged unless they are entirely from your own research work.
- use controversial facts, opinions, or a date which might be challenged. However, information of a general nature such as facts which are common knowledge e.g. the years of World War II do not need to be referenced.

In other words, you will need to reference any ideas or data you have used which are not your own. Please note that it is just as important to cite electronic sources as it is to reference print materials since they are both covered by copyright law.

WHERE DO I INSERT REFERENCES?

- as an 'in-text' reference: shown in a shortened form, AND
- as a list using the 'full text' reference in the references at the end of your assignment.
This list has full details of your references.

THE HARVARD AUTHOR-DATE REFERENCING SYSTEM.

NCS has chosen to use the Harvard Author-Date referencing system, which is a standard for most tertiary institutions. However, certain finer points of University requirements for academic writing have been omitted from this Guide.

LISTING THE REFERENCES

The Reference List comes at the end of the assignment and each reference is listed alphabetically by author's name.

If the reference does not list an author, then this reference should be listed alphabetically using the title of the text.

HOW DO I REFERENCE?

Book Referencing:

Author's surname; Author's Initials; Year; Title of book (italics); Edition (edn.); Publisher; Place of Publication E.g. Brown, J 2000, A History of Modern Art in Europe, 2ndedn, Phaidon, London

Compulsory School Attendance

Information for parents

Education for your child is important and regular attendance at school is essential for your child to achieve their educational best and increase their career and life options. NSW public schools work in partnership with parents to encourage and support regular attendance of children and young people. When your child attends school every day, learning becomes easier and your child will build and maintain friendships with other children.

What are my legal responsibilities?

Education in New South Wales is compulsory for all children between the ages of six years and below the minimum school leaving age. The Education Act 1990 requires that parents ensure their children of compulsory school age are enrolled at, and regularly attend school, or, are registered with the Board of Studies, Teaching and Educational Standards for homeschooling.

Once enrolled, children are required to attend school each day it is open for students.

The importance of arriving on time

Arriving at school and class on time:

- Ensures that students do not miss out on important learning activities scheduled early in the day
- Helps students learn the importance of punctuality and routine
- Give students time to greet their friends before class
- Reduces classroom disruption

Lateness is recorded as a partial absence and must be explained by parents.

What if my child has to be away from school?

On occasion, your child may need to be absent from school. Justified reasons for student absences may include:

- being sick, or having an infectious disease
- having an unavoidable medical appointment
- being required to attend a recognised religious holiday
- exceptional or urgent family circumstance (e.g. attending a funeral)

Following an absence from school you must ensure that within 7 days you provide your child's school with a verbal or written explanation for the absence. However, if the school has not received an explanation from you within 2 days, the school may contact you to discuss the absence.

Principals may decline to accept an explanation that you have provided if they do not believe the absence is in the best interest of your child. In these circumstances your child's absence would be recorded as unjustified. When this happens the principal will discuss their decision with you and the reasons why.

Principals may request medical certificates or other documentation when frequent or long term absences are explained as being due to illness. Principals may also seek parental permission to speak with medical specialists to obtain information to collaboratively develop a health care plan to support your child. If the request is denied, the principal can record the absences as unjustified.

Travel

Families are encouraged to travel during school holidays. If travel during school term is necessary, discuss this with your child's school principal. An Application for Extended Leave may need to be completed. Absences relating to travel will be marked as leave on the roll and therefore contribute to your child's total absences for the year.

In some circumstances students may be eligible to enrol in distance education for travel periods over 50 school days. This should be discussed with your child's school principal.

My child won't go to school. What should I do?

You should contact the principal as soon as possible to discuss the issue and ask for help. Strategies to help improve attendance may include a referral to the school's learning and support team or linking your child with appropriate support networks. The principal may seek further support from the Home School Liaison Program to develop an Attendance Improvement Plan.

What might happen if my child continues to have unacceptable absences?

It is important to understand that the Department of Education and Communities may be required to take further action where children of compulsory school age have recurring numbers of unexplained or unjustified absences from school.

Some of the following actions may be undertaken:

- Compulsory Schooling Conferences

You may be asked, along with your child, to attend a Compulsory Schooling Conference. The conference will help to identify the supports your child may need to have in place so they attend school regularly. The school, parents and agencies will work together to develop an agreed plan (known as Undertakings) to support your child's attendance at school.

- Application to the Children's Court – Compulsory Schooling Order

If your child's attendance at school remains unsatisfactory the Department may apply to the Children's Court for a Compulsory Schooling Order. The Children's Court magistrate may order a Compulsory Schooling Conference to be convened.

- Prosecution in the Local Court

School and Department staff remain committed to working in partnership with you to address the issues which are preventing your child's full participation at school. In circumstances where a breach of compulsory schooling orders occurs further action may be taken against a parent in the Local Court. The result of court action can be the imposition of a community service order or a fine.

What age can my child leave school?

All New South Wales students must complete Year 10 or its equivalent. After Year 10, and up until they reach 17 years of age, there are a range of flexible options for students to complete their schooling.

Working in Partnership

The Department of Education and Communities recognises that working collaboratively with students and their families is the best way to support the regular attendance of students at school.

We look forward to working in partnership with you to support your child to fulfil their life opportunities.

If a student misses as little as 8 days in a school term, by the end of primary school they'll have missed over a year of school.
